Basta Boatlifts Debuts New Boat Lift at Seattle Boat Show That Cradles Boats with a Custom-like Fit

Innovative Boat-to Bunk™ design and plug-and-play fittings create elegant solution for boats up to 6,700 pounds.

SEATTLE—Jan. 26, 2017 – Boat owners attending the Seattle Boat Show will be delighted to discover a new boat lift from Basta Boatlifts (Booth East 1115) that provides a custom fit “off-the-shelf” for boats up to 6,700 pounds without paying a custom price. Basta Boatlifts’ highly adaptable boat lift provides the most precise Boat-to-Bunk™ fit in the industry, along with plug-and-play fittings to conveniently connect accessories.

This innovative new lift features adjustable bunk rails enabling boat owners to configure the lift for a custom Boat-to-Bunk™ fit. The bunk rails can be adjusted for width and angle to accommodate a wide variety of hull shapes and skeg placements.

A “deep V” cradle design with universal fittings make it easier than ever to connect accessories such as a catwalk or centering guide. As the boat raises and lowers on the lift, the accessories move with it. No welding is required, giving boat owners a flexible and elegant solution that can be temporary or permanent.

“Our goal at Basta Boatlifts is to maximize the fun of boat ownership while making maintenance and upkeep easier,” said Sam Basta, founder and CEO of Basta Boatlifts. “Our latest boat lift not only provides a custom fit for your boat, but allows boat owners to effortlessly attach an accessory like a catwalk to easily wash their boat or put on the cover from the water side.”
